MARK SCHEME for the October/November 2006 question paper

0452 ACCOUNTING

0452/03

Paper 3, maximum raw mark 100

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and students, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began.

All Examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated.

Mark schemes must be read in conjunction with the question papers and the report on the examination.

The grade thresholds for various grades are published in the report on the examination for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level syllabuses.

CIE will not enter into discussions or correspondence in connection with these mark schemes.

CIE is publishing the mark schemes for the October/November 2006 question papers for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level syllabuses and some Ordinary Level syllabuses.

Question 2 Continued

(c) Answer to be based on answer to (b) –

If (b) shows a closing balance -

No (1)

If all the errors has been discovered the suspense account would be closed (1)

If (b) shows the account is closed -

Yes (1)

It is likely that the errors have been discovered as the suspense account is closed (1)

[2]

(d) Advantages of preparing a sales ledger control account (apart from helping locate errors when a trial balance does not balance) –

Provides instant total of debtors

Proves the arithmetical accuracy of sales ledger

Enables the Balance Sheet to be prepared quickly

Provides a summary of the transactions relating to debtors for the period

Provides an internal check on the sales ledger - may reduce fraud

Or other relevant points

Any 3 points (1) each

[3]

(e) A contra entry is where a transfer is made from an account of a person/business in the sales ledger to an account of the same person/business in the purchases ledger. This may occur when a person/business is both a customer and a supplier.

(d) Problems of inter-firm comparison –

Should compare with a business in same trade

Should compare with a business of approximately the same size

Should compare with a business of the same type (sole trader/partnership etc)

The accounts may be for 1 year only which will not show trends and may not be a typical year

The financial year may end on different dates and the period of time covered may be different

The businesses may operate different accounting policies

There may be differences which affect profitability and the items on the Balance Sheet

The accounts do not show non-monetary items, but these are important in the success of a business

It is not always possible to obtain all the information about a business in order to make a true comparison

Or other suitable points
