Students did not sit exam papers in the June 2020 series due to the Covid-19 global pandemic.

This mark scheme is published to support teachers and students and should be read together with the question paper. It shows the requirements of the exam. The answer column of the mark scheme shows the proposed basis on which Examiners would award marks for this exam. Where appropriate, this column also provides the most likely acceptable alternative responses expected from students. Examiners usually review the mark scheme after they have seen student responses and update the mark scheme if appropriate. In the June series, Examiners were unable to consider the acceptability of alternative responses, as there were no student responses to consider.

Mark schemes should usually be read together with the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers. However, because students did not sit exam papers, there is no Principal Examiner Report for Teachers for the June 2020 series.

Cambridge International will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge International is publishing the mark schemes for the June 2020 series for most Cambridge IGCSE™ and Cambridge International A & AS Level components, and some Cambridge O Level components.

This document consists of 11 printed pages.

Generic Marking Principles

These general marking principles must be applied by all examiners when marking candidate answers. They should be applied alongside the specific content of the mark scheme or generic level descriptors for a question. Each question paper and mark scheme will also comply with these marking principles.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 1:

Marks must be awarded in line with:

- the specific content of the mark scheme or the generic level descriptors for the question
- the specific skills defined in the mark scheme or in the generic level descriptors for the question
- the standard of response required by a candidate as exemplified by the standardisation scripts.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 2:

Marks awarded are always whole marks (not half marks, or other fractions).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 3:

Marks must be awarded positively:

- marks are awarded for correct/valid answers, as defined in the mark scheme. However, credit is given for valid answers which go beyond the scope of the syllabus and mark scheme, referring to your Team Leader as appropriate
- marks are awarded when candidates clearly demonstrate what they know and can do
- marks are not deducted for errors
- marks are not deducted for omissions
- answers should only be judged on the quality of spelling, punctuation and grammar when these features are specifically assessed by the question as indicated by the mark scheme. The meaning, however, should be unambiguous.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 4:

Rules must be applied consistently e.g. in situations where candidates have not followed instructions or in the application of generic level descriptors.

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 5:

Marks should be awarded using the full range of marks defined in the mark scheme for the question (however, the use of the full mark range may be limited according to the quality of the candidate responses seen).

GENERIC MARKING PRINCIPLE 6:

Marks awarded are based solely on the requirements as defined in the mark scheme. Marks should not be awarded with grade thresholds or grade descriptors in mind.

Note: All Examiners are instructed that alternative correct answers and unexpected approaches in candidates' scripts must be given marks that fairly reflect the relevant knowledge and skills demonstrated. Nonetheless, the content must be clearly related to and derived from the passage.

Question	Answer	Marks
1	Write a speech to give to an audience of young people about what they need to consider when taking part in an extreme sport. In your speech you should: • evaluate the benefits and risks outlined in both texts • give your own views, based on what you have read, about whether participating in an extreme sport is worthwhile. Base your speech on what you have read in both texts, but be careful to use your own words. Address both of the bullet points. Write about 250 to 350 words. Up to 15 marks are available for the content of your answer, and up to 25 marks for the quality of your writing. Notes on task: Responses might use the following ideas: Text A: • physical and psychological benefits • 'mental boost' derives from facing fears • extreme sports can help people face fears • overcoming fears improves self confidence • extreme sports' benefits can affect ability to face other kinds of 'real life' difficulties • resilience can be improved by exposure to risky sports • people can learn to weigh up fears and identify irrational fear • people can learn humility in the face of powerful nature. Text B: • not everyone wants to play team sports • extreme sports can make people feel alive • this can lead to addiction • the extremity of activities can escalate quickly • the involvement of sponsorships can turn extreme sportspeople into professionals • these sports have very high stakes for small mistakes • statistics suggest how dangerous extreme sports are • other people are put in danger by participant • young people are more vulnerable to the lure of extreme sports • internet fame is a strong draw for young people.	40

Question	Answer	Marks
1	Possible evaluation of ideas: Text A: • extreme sports can be useful in real life/very dangerous way to learn how to overcome fear • there are enough pressures on young people – exams etc • young people can develop their characters without risk • confidence/resilience comes with maturity, no safe short cuts • humility and self confidence seem contradictory? • the power of nature / sense of awe can be acquired more safely. Text B: • physical exercise / camaraderie nothing to do with extreme sport – are they really sports? • the feeling of 'being more alive' is vague / potentially dangerous – shouldn't young people learn symptoms of addiction rather than thrill? • other kinds of addictive behaviour are discouraged, why not this? • big business exploits extreme athletes/profits from their risk – candidates may find this cynical • professionalising extreme sports may make them more extreme/dangerous / participants can't just stop • young people's dependence on social media may make for even more risky ventures. Possible Synthesis of ideas: • Are extreme sports really 'sporting' in intention? • Will safety measures take away their appeal if risk is essential?
