Answer Question 1 and either Question 2 or Question 3.

1 Read the passage and answer the questions:

Thence he marched to Persepolis with such rapidity that the garrison had no time to plunder the city's treasure before his arrival. He also captured the treasure of Cyrus the First at Pasargadae. He appointed Phrasaortes son of Rheomithras, to the governorship of Persepolis. He burnt the palace of the Persian kings, though this act was against the advice of Parmenio, who urged him to spare it for various reasons, chiefly because it was hardly wise to destroy what was now his own property, and because the Asians would, in his opinion, be less willing to support him if he seemed bent merely upon passing through their country as a conqueror rather than upon ruling it securely as a king. Alexander's answer was that he wished to punish the Persians for their invasion of Greece; his present act was retribution for the destruction of Athens, the burning of the temples, and all the other crimes they had committed against the Greeks. 5 10

MNESILOCHUS:	Will they fit me, I wonder – you like a slack fit yourself.	5

EURIPIDES:	I swear by Ether, dwelling place of Zeus.
MNESILOCHUS:	No, that won't do. You might as well swear by a block of flats.
